Moscow, Vechernyaya Moskva, 4 Jan 51

When regular passenger traffic begins, 24 pairs of electric trains will run on this sector.

NEW SUBURBAN RATES -- Moscow, Gudok, 17 Jan 51

New railroad rates were introduced 1 January 1951 for suburban travel in 56 of the larger cities of the USSR. Previously, the special suburban-zone rates, considerably lower than the regular rates, applied only to Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, Rostov-on-Don, Kharkov, Gor'kiy, and on the Baku-Sabunchi line. The wider distribution of the suburban rates will undoubtedly cause an increase in passenger travel, and railroad workers must improve the quality of passenger service.

Moscow, Gudok, 28 Jan 51

The suburban rate zone has been extended in Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, Rostov-on-Don, and Kharkov.
